TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. What is covered under Toyota Service Advantage?

Toyota Service Advantage covers all items specified under the standard 'Maintenance for Normal Operating Conditions' schedule detailed in the Warranty and Service Handbook, including parts, labour and fluids.

2. When does Toyota Service Advantage become effective?

From the original registration of warranty date for the vehicle recorded in the Warranty and Service Handbook.

3. Term of Coverage – Toyota Service Advantage.

Eligibility of your vehicle to participate in Toyota Service Advantage is deemed to have expired upon the first to occur of any of the following three conditions:

- a. The performance of allocated number of standard scheduled services for the nominated capped price (as per table on page 2 of this brochure).
- b. The expiry of 36 months from the original Warranty registration date.
- c. 60,000km being travelled.

Please note that Toyota Service Advantage services are subsidised. For information on Servicing costs outside of these standard scheduled services (which will be dependent on your driving conditions) or after the Toyota Service Advantage period expires please consult your authorised Toyota Dealer.

4. When can a scheduled service be carried out?

Service intervals are for a given distance, or period of time (3 years/60,000km, whichever occurs first). Even if you don't drive far enough to cover the distance between service intervals your Toyota should still be serviced according to the time period shown on the schedule. Under Toyota Service Advantage, for most owners the kilometres travelled will indicate when a service is due. Each scheduled service can be claimed within 5,000kms either side of the specified interval. If the distance you travel is low you should service according to the time intervals. A specified time interval service can be claimed 3 months either side of the specified time.

Note: You cannot claim both a specified kilometres service and the corresponding time interval service separately.

5. Where can Toyota Service Advantage be carried out?

Only at authorised Toyota Dealers.

6. What is not covered under Toyota Service Advantage?

Additional service / repair items which are not covered within the 'Maintenance for Normal Operating Conditions' standard scheduled services as outlined in the Warranty and Service Handbook, which include:

- Additional 'Maintenance for Severe Operating Conditions' scheduled service requirements.
- LPG additional maintenance items.
- Normal wear and tear items requiring additional maintenance (e.g. fuses, brake pads replacement, wiper blades, batteries, wheel alignment correction, tyres etc.)

- Additional fluids and additives not specified in the normal maintenance schedule.
- Accident damage to any body, chassis or driveline components.
- Adjustments not specified in the normal maintenance schedule.
- Additional maintenance and repairs that may be recommended by your Toyota Dealer to suit your particular driving conditions.

7. Transfer of Toyota Service Advantage.

Toyota Service Advantage cannot be transferred to any other vehicle and remains with the vehicle for the full duration outlined above, regardless of ownership.

8. Refunds.

No refund is payable for any services under Toyota Service Advantage which are not claimed during the relevant time period/distance.

9. Exclusions.
